

MONEY WEEK

22nd APRIL 2011

Spending it

Where to stay

GoldenEye

The house where Ian Fleming wrote many of James Bond's adventures has been turned into one of Jamaica's best luxury resorts. The resort sports a private beach and villas that are set far enough apart to offer plenty of privacy. Doubles from £328 (Islandoutpost.com)

Strawberry Hills

This luxury mountain retreat is built in plantation style, says The Independent. The large, 19th-century house in its own gardens is surrounded by a cluster of cottages and villas with verandahs. There is also a gorgeous spa. Rooms from £120 (Islandoutpost.com).
